Would Promote Religious
Training In Public Schools

An organization to be known as the Joint Council for the Promotion of Religious Education in the Salem public schools is being formed by groups interested in the study of this problem. The unit will include representatives of all religious faiths, PTAs and civic organizations. At a meeting Tuesday evening in the First Baptist church a topics committee comprised of Dr. James A. Scott, Rev. Harry Barrett and Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney was appointed.

What Is Program?

"What Is Religious Education?" is the subject for consideration at the next meeting Thursday evening, April 10, in the Memorial building. This and all questions proposed by the committee will be studied from all angles, after which a report will be written. This combined report will be prepared into a recommendation to be presented to the board of education.

Committees named at this week's session include: Nominating, Rev. R. J. Hunter, Rev. E. M. Parks and George Huston; reports, Rev. G. D. Keister and Rev. C. F. Evans; rules, Atty. Lodger Clepan. Herman C. Stratton is temporary secretary. Officers will be named at the next meeting.

JAYCEES TO HEAR
EX-COUNTER SPY

Atty. George Gentiles of Warren, a special agent in the counter-intelligence corps during the war, will speak at the meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Grady's restaurant at 6:30 tonight. The ex-agent for the Allies will tell of his extensive experiences as a counter-spy in European countries during the war. He speaks several languages fluently and many times was disguised as a native of the country in which he worked. Dale Wilson is program chairman.

(By Associated Press)
CENTRALIA, Ill., March 27 — A mine rescue squad leader today held out "no chance at all" for 83 coal miners still trapped two days after a disastrous explosion which resulted in at least 28 known deaths. However, officials of the Centralia Coal Co. mine No. 5—torn by the blast Tuesday afternoon—said rescue attempts would be pushed, "we're not going to give up."

The toll of 111 dead predicted by William J. Rowekamp, rescue leader and recording secretary of the Centralia Local of the AFL United Mine Workers whose members worked the mine, would rank the disaster as the greatest in the nation's coal fields since 195 lost their lives in 1928 at Mather, Pa.

Revise Estimates

The company presented a revised total of the number of miners who had been in the mine at the time of the blast. Vice President W. P. Young said 142 men had been in the mine and 31 had been removed alive. Earlier he said 151 had been below and 30 had been rescued alive.

Rowekamp's views were echoed by other rescue workers who said that not a single victim has been taken alive from the mine since Tuesday night several hours after the explosion.

One miner helped out at that time died later. Sixteen bodies were removed over a half-hour period last night and eleven more were discovered in the mine early today.

Opinions varied widely as to the length of time that would be required to complete exploration of the more than 3½ mile tunnel, 540 feet below ground, in which the trapped men had been working. Driscoll O. Scanlan, an Illinois state mine inspector, said because of slow progress it might take a week to probe to the end of the seven-foot high passage. A federal mine inspector who asked that his name not be used, said the squad of 30 who worked grimly through the night had "checked all but two entries on the east-west passage" and said he believed the men still unaccounted for were in these side passages. Bodies taken from the mine were moved temporarily to an improvised morgue in a nearby bus garage.

SCHOOL LEVY
BILL SNAGGED
IN ASSEMBLYOhio House Passes Bill
Requiring 60% O. K.
At Special Vote

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, March 27 — The Ohio school lobby smarted today from its first major setback this session as the Ohio legislature cleared its desks for weekend adjournment.

Representatives for the first time in memory of legislative leaders balked at allowing school districts to approve extra levies at special and primary elections by a bare majority vote.

House Asks 60 Per Cent
The house by a vote of 117 to 2 yesterday passed a measure requiring COLUMBUS, March 27—Legislation appropriating nearly $6,000,000 for salary increases of teachers and other school employees by May 31 bore the senate finance committee's stamp of approval today. Ohio education association officials estimated the bill would give the state's nearly 40,000 teachers and 25,000 school employees an average of $109 each.

ing 60 per cent favorable vote for passage of school levies submitted at primary or special elections in 1947-48.

The measure now goes back to the senate which previously approved the proposal by Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R-Summit) that such levies pass on a majority vote. Failure of senators to approve the house change probably would send the bill to a house-senate conference committee.

School levies now require only a majority vote for approval at regular elections, but for the past two years no provision has been made for submitting them at special or primary balloting.

Majority vote proponents contended the 60 per cent requirement would defeat Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's request for school districts to assume a larger share of the financial burden for school operations.

Those supporting the 60 per cent requirement asserted taxpayers should have that protection on the ground that mainly those interested in winning the levy would vote at primary or special elections.

NEW SNOW STORM
MOVING EASTWARD

(By Associated Press)
There were new falls of snow from Wyoming eastward to Western Kentucky and into Tennessee and unseasonably chilly temperatures in the Midwest and east today as winter continued to overstay its seasonal schedule.

The violent early spring wind and snow storm that spread over the eastern half of the country, causing widespread property damage and at least 16 deaths, moved into Northern Quebec. Winds had diminished but temperatures dropped to near zero in Maine and were below freezing in the other New England states. Snow flurries were general over the Appalachian region.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Chicago said the new snow storm centered in Oklahoma and was moving rapidly eastward, headed for Arkansas and into Tennessee and Virginia today and tonight. Falls of two inches were reported in parts of Missouri and Nebraska as the storm moved out of Wyoming. Rain fell in Southern Kansas and Southwestern Missouri.

Temperatures in the North Central region generally were below freezing today, with the mercury dropping to 12 above in Gladwin and Pellston, Mich., to 14 at Duluth, Minn., and to 21 at Minneapolis.

Forecasters said the mercury would rise slowly during the day over the area, although snow was predicted for portions of Illinois and Indiana today and in Northern Minnesota tomorrow.

Lisbon Schools Close
Due To Snow, Illness

LISBON, March 27 — Lisbon schools today joined the ranks of suspended classes when Supt. H. C. Leonard closed the schools Wednesday evening as 365 students or 38 per cent, were absent from classes yesterday due to flu and the impassable roads.

The absenteeism included both grade schools and the high school, Leonard stated, adding that six teachers were also absent because of illness.

Classes will not resume here until Monday, Leonard said.

Prospects For Vet Bonus Up

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, March 27 — Bonus payment prospects for Ohio war veterans advanced "on the double" today.

A senate sub-committee recommended to its parent military affairs committee a $300,000,000 bonus program which members said last night would require additional hearings.

House sub-committee members said earlier they probably would submit a separate plan next week based on agreements reached at joint hearings by sub-committees of both houses.

NEW GROUP PLANS
CONCERT SERIESConcert Association Will Inaugurate Membership
Campaign April 14

Membership campaign for the recently organized Northern Columbiana County Community Concert association will be launched at a dinner meeting Monday evening, April 14, in the First Presbyterian church.

The campaign will continue throughout that week. Walter B. Null, association president, announced today.

Mrs. E. E. Dyball, chairman of the campaign, and Mrs. Vesta King, co-chairman, are organizing teams of volunteer workers to enroll association members during the week.

At the opening dinner meeting these workers will meet Harold Welch, organization director of Community Concert service of New York. He will remain in Salem that week to assist in conducting the campaign.

Arrangements for the dinner are being directed by Mrs. Walter L. Strain, who is planning an attractive setting for the inauguration of this civic enterprise.

Must Join To Hear Concerts

At the dinner the workers will receive materials for enrolling applicants and will hear short talks by several speakers who will discuss the value of the concerts to the community.

During the campaign week, everyone in Salem and the surrounding area who wishes to attend the concert series must enroll. At least three concerts by outstanding artists will be presented by the association next fall and winter.

After the close of the campaign no one can obtain membership until the following year, and only members will be admitted to the concerts.

This is in accordance with the "organized audience" plan that assures an ample budget before the artists are engaged. Null pointed out. No single tickets will be available for any of the concerts.

Kennel Club Plans
For Aug. 17 Show

An interesting film, "How To Train Yourself To Train Your Dog," was the feature of the meeting of the Columbiana County Kennel club at the Memorial building Wednesday night.

The club heard and accepted a letter of resignation from President Aubrey Clay, who is no longer employed in Salem. Vice President P. O. Gottschall presided.

The group voted to donate $10 to the current Girl Scout campaign to raise money for Camp Merrylee.

Mrs. James Rawsthorne, secretary, reported that a date of Aug. 17 has been approved by the American Kennel club for a show by the Salem club.

Dale Wilson was appointed bench show committee chairman, replacing C. V. Williams, who resigned to accept a position as a member of the committee.

New by-laws and a constitution were adopted following a report by J. C. Harshman, chairman of the by-laws committee.

Ohio Bell Asks That Wage
Dispute Be Arbitrated Now

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. has proposed that the wage issue now being negotiated between the company and the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers be submitted to arbitration. It was announced by Cleveland by E. H. Gustafson, the company's vice president in charge of personnel.

"The company believes that if the wage issues can be determined the other issues can be settled by continued bargaining," said Mr. Gustafson.

"Certainly, issues other than wages would not appear to be serious enough to be a basis for the threatened strike. Telephone employees are known to have excellent working conditions."

"The company finds itself, after unsuccessful bargaining, in a position of being threatened by a strike which has national implications. It urges strongly that the principal issues, which involve wages, be settled promptly by arbitration."

Increases Concern Users

"Telephone wages are a matter of direct concern to Ohio Telephone users who pay the rates that provide the money to pay wages. If the wage demands of the union were met fully, the increases would amount on the average to over $2 per month per telephone.

"If all of these demands were applied throughout the company the payrolls would be increased by about $35,000,000 per year. It would be equivalent to an increase of over 50 per cent in expenses which in 1946 were $72,000,000. The increased payroll added to last year's expenses would amount to $107,000,000. That would be more than the $86,000,000 of total revenue that the company took in during 1946."

"Telephone wage rates for a forty-hour week have been increased 68 per cent since January 1, 1941.

"Recent studies show that telephone wages compare favorably with wages in other businesses for work requiring similar skill and equivalent training. It is the policy of the company to maintain wages that compare favorably in order that enough of the right kind of people may be attracted to furnish telephone service of high quality. The company has taken the position that there is no justification for putting telephone wages above such a level."

Specific Demands Late

"The union did not present specific wage demands to the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. until February 4th. The present contract between the company and the union was not canceled by the union until February 6 and bargaining started on February 11 by agreement between the two parties."

"Up to the time that bargaining began, the union had given publicity to the fact that it would ask for a general wage increase and it continues to publicize that unsupported generality as a basis for saying that the company delayed the process of bargaining wages."

"Items being bargained for include, other than the direct wage issues, union shop, jurisdiction over telephone work, leave of absence for union officers, pensions, payment for joint conference and grievance time, and change of employee titles."

"In view of the size of the union demands, the direct interest of Ohio people in the nature of the settlement and the short time remaining before the union deadline for strike, the company believes that the Ohio problem should be submitted to Ohio arbitration in order that telephone service may continue uninterrupted."

Deny Dismissal
Motion For Hart

NEW YORK, March 27—Motions for dismissal of charges and for a directed verdict of acquittal in the trial of Serge Rubenstein, international financier, were denied yesterday by Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor.

On trial on charges he falsified his draft status, Rubenstein contended through counsel that testimony had dealt with applications for deferment and not his liability for service. Attorneys said the guilt of Rubenstein and two co-defendants, Allen Gordon, Foster, and James C. Hart, had not been proved beyond a reasonable doubt.

Poster, former director of the Panhandle Producing and Refining company, and Hart, former president of the Taylorcraft Aviation Corp., Alliance are being tried on conspiracy charges.

BULLETIN

MOSCOW, March 27—Under the impact of the three western nations' arguments, Soviet foreign minister Molotov retreated from his previous position and agreed tonight to consider a definition of German assets in Austria.

MOSCOW, March 27—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall was reported today deeply displeased with the lack of progress in the Council of Foreign Ministers deliberations on the German and Austrian treaties—and especially with last night's talk-filled session which accomplished nothing.

Criticism in the American delegation were aimed as much at the work of the four-power coordinating committee as at the tangle within the council itself.

Snagged In Committee

The committee was supposed to have completed listing council agreements and disagreements Tuesday. American and British sources blame the failure to meet that deadline on deliberate efforts by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to wring concessions from the Western powers even in this purely technical group.

Hope for agreement on the treaties during this conference faded as the council split all along the line on minor issues as well as major ones.

Prospects for completing a peace pact for Austria—which had appeared bright—hit a snag late last night when it was disclosed that Russia had rejected an American proposal to tackle immediately the key log in the jam: definition of German assets in Austria.

The ministers themselves talked for nearly five hours yesterday without reaching a single decisive agreement on the German or the Austrian treaty and Secretary of State George C. Marshall soberly declared that the council was becoming so "ensnared" that "reasonable progress is unfortunately remote."

This situation was paralleled in a special Big Four coordinating committee, which has been working overtime since last week simply to list the items of agreement and disagreement on German issues thus far discussed without yet approaching the end of its task.

Actually, diplomatic informants said, grim conflicts of important power interests—among them control of any future German peace conference—lie beneath the surface disagreements.

Hall Estate Suing
For Traffic Death

LISBON, March 27 — A traffic fatality in West Point in September, 1945, was echoed in the common pleas court here with the filing of a damage action by Mrs. Gertrude Hall, administratrix of the estate of the late Bud David Hall of Lisbon against R. C. Turner, doing business as Turner Supply Co., of Mt. Gilead.

Judgment in the sum of $20,000 is sought for the death of Hall, plus $400 said to have been the value of the Hall car demolished in the accident.

A second damage action was filed by Adin Kaufman of Columbiana against Edward Van Kirk of Bellevue, Pa., in which $10,375 is asked for personal injuries and damages to the plaintiff's car in an accident on Route 14 at the western limits of the village of Washingtonville, last January 5th.

Sams A Growing Boy

The great discovery being made by Americans in the cold, gray dawn of the postwar years is the high cost of everything they want, including collective security at home and abroad.

The high cost of security at home is particularly shocking. Its most brutal impact is on taxpayers who expected substantial relief after the war and are going to get, instead, fresh jolts in the teeth.

Every village, town, city, every township, county and state has the same problem of fitting taxes to postwar needs. People want new streets, new public buildings, new public facilities of all kinds. They want more services, more public welfare, more subsidies, bigger handouts, larger armies, navies and international prestige and power to Patagonia and all points of the compass. Uncle Sam is a growing boy; he has grown out of his prewar tax clothing.

On one hand are politicians ringing the changes on tax reduction while yelping for everything calculated to cost more money. On the other hand are earnest officials trying to make ends meet and wondering how long it will take the politicians and their clients who insist on having something for nothing to come to the end of their insanity.

If the United States is going to be half the country it thinks it can be, someone must put up the money. Americans can't have national expansion and tax reduction too.

Wanted: Litigants

The International Court of Justice at the Hague is ready for business, but so far no customers have appeared. In the first postwar session of the court last year, questions of organization were covered, and in the second session just concluded the fine points of administration were taken up.

Now the 15-judge tribunal is ready to start adjudicating. Judge Green H. Hackworth of the United States is on the bench with his colleagues from other lands. The clerical staff of some 25 or 30 stenographers, registrars and translators is ready with pencils poised. Won't somebody bring the court some business?

It isn't that there is a lack of potential cases for the court in its bailiwick. Someone has been disturbing the peace in China, Turkey reports someone has been prowling outside its bedroom window. Italy has been a party to a line-fence quarrel around Trieste and still isn't happy although the difficulties are quiescent now. Russia has been acting in a menacing manner, a grand jury offense in Ohio and the world, just like pointing firearms. There's a terrific family row going on down the street in India, and somebody ought to have the gumption to break into the house and try to pacify them.

No business for the World Court? If all the national miscreants in the world today were haled before it, it would be like any municipal court on the Monday morning after a rough week-end.

Uniform Licensing Standards

This week marks the beginning of a campaign for uniform driver-licensing standards throughout the nation. The American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators and the National Conservation Bureau have completed a study covering several years and are presenting to the states a 13-point program based on these findings.

Among the items the survey recommends to the states are standard questions and requirements for applicants for licenses and renewals; uniform practices with regard to license suspensions; clinics for drivers who are in more than one accident, and special tests for drivers when they reach the ages of 40, 50, 60, 65 and 70.

One of the principal causes of the nation's high traffic accident rate is found in the farcical licensing regulations of many states. Too many licenses go to persons whose principal qualification was the ability to affix their name to the application blank. Ohio is not the worst state in this respect, nor is its record at the top of the list.

The states will do well to match their standards against the model prepared by the survey. Uniform, scientifically established standards would do much to eliminate the nation's greatest traffic hazard—the driver who is temperamentally or physically unfit to operate a car.

We'll Take The Chance

The witch-hunters hoping to ride roughshod over civil liberties in the name of the government crusade against communism are one of the very real problems of solving this troublesome problem.

The United States will have to take its chances on controlling one set of subversivists for the sake of getting at another set whose known tactics are to infiltrate the government itself.

There is no question of civil liberties involved in an individual's employment by government; that needs to be understood. No person has any claim to public employment, unless the public wants to employ him. Nor does any person whose actions deny his oath of loyalty to the United States have any claim to continue in public employment if the government wishes to discharge him and is prepared to show cause why it did so.

The United States is going to concern itself first with a cleansing of its own personnel. In this necessary step, there will be minimum danger from the witch hunters. Their mischief, if it comes, will grow troublesome later, if and when the cleansing operation is broadened to get rid of provable subversivists in the general population. Only then will their favorite trick of smearing the intended victim with an accusation and depending on prejudice to produce a verdict of guilty become easy.

The United States will not be able to offset the cruel attack of world revolutionists by an easy method. Their theory is that governments can be made to destroy themselves by compounding their troubles. It is that theory which is about to be tested in the United States—in the laboratory of the American republic where men once proved that a sovereign people can govern itself with dignity. This is a new challenge, perhaps a greater one.

FULLY established matters or other interests built upon sound judgment and rational hopes may be expected to gain much solid ground by careful analysis and keen insight into static or restricted aspects, with steady and logical endeavors to overcome mistakes or false starts.

Some adroit maneuvering or shrewd move may enlist support from those in advanced places, or from others inclined to secret agreements of intrigues. Keep alert to these, as snares and traps may exact penalties. Beware of sudden dangers.

On the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are in line for some definite advancement and growth, in such matters that are already laid upon sound foundations or beyond the experimental stage. Solid progress comes from logical reasoning and analysis of underlying factors and not snap judgments, schemes or erratic ideas.

While superiors or friends may be attracted by safe values, with little there are sinister and treacherous openings, spelling loss of prestige, resources and jobs as well. Also safeguard the health and keep alert to accident, danger, fire and storms.

A child born on this day may have much sound sense, with patience, industry and will to win and yet be defeated by overconfidence in self or in the honesty of treacherous associates.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Serum That Lessens Severity of Measles

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
MEASLES must not be looked upon as just a simple and harmless disease of childhood. In young infants or sickly children it often turns out to be a very serious and even disastrous business.

Fortunately today, if such children are by some mischance exposed to measles, we can still protect them against its worst effects. It is very important that this be done.

Heretofore, a number of preparations have been used for this purpose. Among them are convalescent serum which is blood serum taken from a patient who is just recovering from measles, blood serum taken from a number of adults, and extracts made from the afterbirth called placental immune globulin.

Effective Protection

According to Dr. Lewis K. Sweet and Thorval H. Hickman of Washington, D. C., what is known as gamma globulin is highly effective in protecting children against measles when it is injected shortly after the child is exposed to the disease. Gamma globulin is obtained from a part of the protein substances in the blood, known as serum albumin and serum globulin.

Gamma globulin was given to 267 children who had not had measles and who were exposed to it; 241 of them were observed long enough to know the results obtained. Of these, 50 developed mild measles while only seven developed measles of average severity. In only one instance was there any complication of measles and this was a mild infection of the middle ear. None of the children had any reactions to the injections of gamma globulin.

When children are given these injections the object in most instances is not to protect the child completely, so that he does not get the measles but, rather, to protect him to the degree that he gets only a mild attack. Then as a rule, he will be permanently protected against this disorder.

Age and Size

The amount of the preparation given depends on the child's age and size, and for how long a period he was exposed to the infection. Then, too, the period of time which elapses between the time he was exposed and the period when the globulin is given will determine to a great degree whether the child is completely protected or just develops a mild case of measles.

Parents should remember that measles can be a serious condition and usually is to the very young child and if the child is exposed, they should promptly see to it that he is given one of the protecting substances which modern medical science has developed for this purpose.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

HAVE DIFFICULTY IN SEATING JURY

Erwin Brown Murder Jury
Not Seated By Noon;
Give Up Trip

LISBON, March 27.—Five persons seated Tuesday on the murder jury being selected to try Erwin Brown, 37, of Irondale, were excused Wednesday afternoon, three on challenges for "cause" while the other two were ejected through peremptory challenges.

The trial, which did not get under way until 2 o'clock Wednesday, due to inability of some jurors to reach the county seat due to weather and hazardous road conditions, followed an hour-long chamber conference between Judge Joel H. Sharp and attorneys for the state and the defense on technical matters pertaining to the jury list.

Excuse On Technicality
Those excused were Mrs. Yvette Chaplow of East Palestine, because of a technicality in which her address on the original jury venire served upon the defendant was given as East Liverpool instead of East Palestine.

Two other jurors Wade Loop of Salem, and Miss Veronica Maher of Salineville were also excused by the court when it was discovered their names did not appear in the regular jury register.

Mrs. Chaplow's seat on the jury was filled by Mrs. Carolyn M. Vogel of Wellsville, who was later unseated by the state in a peremptory challenge, and Mrs. Grace Barnes of Lisbon was seated in the vacancy.

Harvey Royer of Columbiana replaced Loop in the jury box, and Warren D. Nile of Wellsville filled the vacancy when Miss Maher was excused.

Mrs. Cora Belle Matheny of East Liverpool was excused by defense counsel in the first peremptory challenge of the afternoon, and her chair in the jury box has been filled by Mrs. Louise Porter of Wellsville.

At noon today the complete jury still had not been seated. With 11 jurors chosen, the court hoped to seat the twelfth member early in the afternoon. It had been the plan of the court to take the jury to the scene of the crime, but it appeared likely that it would be impossible today, due to the amount of time already consumed.

End British Martial Law In Jerusalem

Two minutes after this picture was taken in the Hippo area of Jerusalem a whistle-blast ended 15 days of "statutory martial law" and the huge mass of people penned in by barbed wire surged over the barricades to join friends and relatives outside the military-governed area. Akron Plans One Million Airport Bond Issue Vote

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Mayor Charles Slusser of Akron, said today the city would approve a bond issue of up to $1,000,000 for improvement of its municipal airport if major airlines are prevented from transferring their services from it to the Akron-Canton airport.

Should the voters fail to approve the bonds, Slusser said he would be willing to recommend that the city council issue bonds for the same purpose. The maximum that could be issued solely upon authority of the council would be about $300,000, he added.

Slusser testified at a hearing conducted by an examiner for the Civil Aeronautics board upon a petition by Akron to require airlines to maintain service at the municipal airport. The airlines concerned are American, Eastern, Pennsylvania-Central and United.

Search Is Continued For Missing Recluse

NEW YORK, March 27.—The mystery of Langley Collier's whereabouts grew deeper today as searchers began a third day of rummaging through his junk-filled house without having found a trace of the 61-year-old recluse.

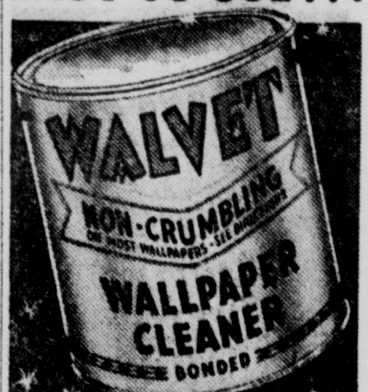

"We are going to continue the search until we are sure Langley Collier is not in there, dead or alive," said Police Inspector Joseph Goldstein.

The missing persons department has begun a check of boarding houses to which Collier might have moved after the death of his blind brother, Homer Collier, 65, whose body was found in the house last Friday.

The brothers had lived in the three-story and basement brownstone house since 1903, when the upper Fifth Avenue section was fashionable. Langley Collier last was seen Thursday.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Apple Tree Versus Wheat Field

If you ever visit Jeb Crowell's farm, he'll take you right out on that back porch of his and show you his apple tree.

"There," says Jeb, "is nature's noblest creation—fifty years, and bearing still the finest cider apples in the county!"

But last fall, when a group of us was there, Lud Denny points across the river to his grain fields and says: "There's an even finer sight! Acres and acres of golden grain you can make dozens of appetizing things with—including wholesome, sparkling beer."

Both of them got so eloquent on the subject, that the rest of us worked up quite a thirst; so Jeb goes to the icebox for beer and cider. And when the refreshments come, Lud chooses cider, and Jeb takes the beer!

From where I sit, that's the answer to most disputes. You can talk all you want, but when it comes to tastes and preferences, there's just no argument.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

A BUSINESS college in Albany, N. Y., recently polled 500 business executives to find out what men consider an "ideal secretary."

Among other qualifications the school discovered that businessmen prefer a secretary who is "a brunette, single, and not over 25."

The amusing thing about the school's findings is that the executives also listed as their pet peeves the fact that their secretaries have too many personal telephone calls, spend too much time flirting with male help, and have too many "friends dropping by the office."

In short, the executives are asking the impossible. They want to surround themselves with good-looking, unmarried young women who naturally are more interested in their own personal lives and in being attractive to men than in their jobs. Yet they don't want office routine cluttered up with flirtations and personal telephone calls.

All the executives would have to do to get rid of all their pet peeves would be to change their idea of the "ideal secretary" to read:

"A woman of nondescript coloring, a little on the plain side. She should either be married or resigned to spinsterhood. She should be 40 or older. Her manners should be businesslike and efficient, and her job the most important thing in her life."

But instead the men want the impossible, as a study of their "ideal secretary" and their "pet peeves" indicates.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 1 pint a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Calls Communists A "Fifth Column"

WASHINGTON, March 27—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today described the Communist party of the United States as "a fifth column" whose "goal is the overthrow of our government."

Testifying before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Hoover asserted:

"There is no doubt as to where a real Communist's loyalty rests. Their allegiance is to Russia not the United States."

He added that the party in this country is "a fifth column" if there ever was one, and declared it is far better organized than were the fifth columns the Nazis had in countries they attacked.

The committee is considering proposals to outlaw the Communist party.

Hoover counseled against "any course of action which would give the Communists cause to portray and pity themselves as martyrs."

"The best antidote to Communism," he said "is vigorous, intelligent, old fashioned Americanism."

Earlier, Eugene Dennis, secretary of the Communist party, was dismissed abruptly as a witness when he refused repeatedly to give his real name.

COLUMBIANA

The board of education met in called session Monday evening to hire teachers. New contracts were tendered those whose contracts have expired as follows:

High school, Mildred E. Burton, John Cabas, Mrs. Margaret Seidner, Mrs. Jean Snow, music, and Marion R. Wheeler, music. Elementary, Anne Louise Butts, Mrs. Nola Leshner, Mrs. Raymond Knight.

Kindergarten, Mrs. Evelyn Smith.

Class to Meet
Friendship class of the Methodist church will meet at 8 p. m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Evan Basinger.

At the Rotary club meeting H. A. Tuttle of Youngstown, former superintendent of Columbiana schools, showed pictures of the 1911-12 basketball team, the first of the Columbiana schools, of which he was coach.

Kiwanians Hear Cabas
3. E. Saffell, superintendent of Fairmount Children's Home, scheduled to speak at the meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday evening, was unable to be present. Coach Cabas was drafted to tell about the basketball season just closed.

Seeing Trip to Moon
Speaking on "Co-operation or Confusion in Ten-Mile-a-Minute Travel," J. V. Deuel of New York City, giving the third address in the high school auditorium, Monday evening, in the Rotary club's institute of public understanding in world affairs, foresaw air travel exceeding the speed of sound and making trips to the moon.

He considers plane travel safer than by automobile, having traveled 53,000 miles by plane since last October.

ORDINANCE NO. 470318-19
PASSED MARCH 18, 1947.

M. on any day except Sundays and legal holidays or on Saturdays between 8:00 A. M. and 9:00 P. M. upon the portion of streets herein designated as "Parking Meter Zones" and described as follows: East State Street from Ellsworth to Vine Street on both sides of the street; North Lincoln Avenue north to Sugar Tree Alley on both sides of the street; South Pershing Street on both sides of the street; South Ellsworth Street on both sides of the street; On State in front of the Post Office Building from Ellsworth to Pershing Street; and on Pershing Street from State Street to Pershing Street on both sides of the street. SECTION 3. On streets so designated the Director of Service and Safety shall cause parking meter spaces approximately twenty-two (22) feet more or less in length to be marked and erect a parking meter for each of such spaces so that the Police Officers may properly compute the time during which a vehicle is parked within such space. All such parking meters shall comply with the conditions set forth in the third (3rd) paragraph of Section 1 of this ordinance and said meters shall be under the management, supervision, and control of the Safety Director.

SECTION 6. Regulation of Parking in Individual Parking Spaces. Whenever a vehicle shall be parked in an individual parking space, where a parking meter has been installed, the person parking such vehicle shall deposit one cent coin—or a five cent coin of the United States money in said parking meter, if such meter displays the signal showing that legal parking is only permitted on such deposit.

This ordinance shall be construed as a supplement to the general traffic ordinances and all other ordinances of the City of Salem, regulating the traffic, parking, and use of streets which shall be in force and effect in the congested area, except insofar as modified by the provisions hereinbefore set forth.

Any authority heretofore or hereafter exercised by the City of Salem under any ordinance, rule or regulation restricting or prohibiting parking, independent of time limited, shall in no manner be affected by this ordinance or any of the provisions thereof. The purpose of this ordinance is to assist in the regulation of overtime parking by the use of approved parking meters, and it shall be so construed.

LEGAL NOTICE

Chinese Troops May Fight Into Dairen

NANKING, March 27.—Chiang Kai-Shek's troops may find it difficult to take over Dairen, treaty designated free port in Manchuria, despite Russia's announced willingness to evacuate it soon.

"Certain obstacles raised by the Chinese Communists remain to be removed," said a foreign office spokesman, Chang Yuan-Zang. He did not elaborate, but unofficial quarters freely predicted government troops might have to fight their way into Dairen.

In Shanghai, reliable Chinese sources openly expressed fear the Soviets would quit Dairen suddenly enabling the Chinese Communists to take over and precipitating a fight for the city.

These sources speculated that Nanking is negotiating with Russia to permit government troops to enter the city from the sea. That move would trap strong Communist forces reported occupying the area between Dairen and the government controlled sector, which begins some 15 miles to the northwest.

There seems little question that Gen. Tu Li-Ming's large Manchuria force could batter its way into Dairen, but a fight would damage the port heavily and the Communists have followed a policy of firing many of the cities they have lost to the government.

• SO THEY SAY

You will see some of the same names of big companies on this refund (tax) list year after year. They can't get 6 per cent interest anywhere else, although I'm not saying they deliberately overpay.

—Rep. Albert Gore (D) of Tennessee.

It is a very healthy sign that many of the leaders of the housing industry are well aware of the danger of pricing themselves out of the market.

—Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley.

The women seem to do all the hard work in the streets, but the faces you see are not particularly dreary—not as grim as the faces in England these days.

—British girl secretary at Big Four Conference in Moscow.

The inadequacies of diplomacy and war as methods of settling disputes between nations are plain for all to see. They have left hate, destruction and desolation in their wake.

—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

BELOIT

"Maybe the reason we are in the fix that we are in is because we have been too tolerant of too many things for too long," said Edward A. Saltsman, Mahoning county school superintendent, who spoke to the Parent-Teacher association Monday evening.

His subject was "Tolerance in the Home, School and Church, National and International Condition of Today," Mrs. D. C. Israel presided.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company Has Offered To Arbitrate Telephone Wages

This is a matter that concerns you —

Because there is no need for you to suffer the effects of a threatened telephone strike which would inconvenience you, paralyze business and endanger the lives and property of the public generally.

Because you pay the rates for telephone service which provide the money to pay telephone wages.

The Company intends to be fair to you and its employees

In all fairness to both the company believes that the present issues should be submitted to arbitration.

These issues should be arbitrated in Ohio by Ohioans because Ohioans are the interested parties. Wages in Ohio are for Ohio conditions. Rates for telephone service are made under Ohio law and are paid by Ohioans. The wage contract of the company is with the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers, an autonomous Ohio corporation. The company always has bargained and settled its differences with that union.

Since February 11, 1947, the Ohio Bell Telephone Company and The Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers, Inc., have been bargaining in an attempt to make a new contract. The Company has a right to expect that the Union will carry through these negotiations by presenting the wage issues to arbitration before so serious an action as a strike is undertaken.

The Union is asking for a $12 week increase and other wage changes that would amount to $35,000,000 per year or, on the average, more than $2.00 per month per telephone. That is a lot of money to ask of Ohio Bell customers. If added to the 1946 expense of the company, the total would be $21,000,000 more than all the money that the company took in that year.

Recent studies by the company show that telephone wages compare favorably in each community with the wages paid by others for work requiring similar skills. However, in the interest of avoiding a strike the company urges that the question be submitted to arbitration.

The Union is also asking for union shop, jurisdiction over telephone work, leaves of absence for union work, changes in pensions and many other things that would seriously affect the operation of the business. Certainly these things are not serious enough to justify a strike and they can be bargained after the wage issues are arbitrated. It is known that working conditions are excellent in the telephone business and that employment practices are liberal.

FOLLOWING IS A COPY OF THE LETTER DATED MARCH 25, 1947, WRITTEN BY THE OHIO BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY TO THE UNION, OFFERING ARBITRATION:

"Mr. R. G. Pollock, President
The Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers, Inc.
750 Prospect Avenue
Cleveland 15, Ohio
Dear Mr. Pollock:

On February 11, 1947, the union and the company commenced collective bargaining for new agreements. On March 18, 1947 the company offered to extend all present agreements to the end of June and thereafter on a month to month basis, provided the union agreed that during such extension there would be no strike action. To date, the union has not accepted this offer and the public is faced with the threat of a strike on April 7 which would seriously interrupt essential telephone service.

While the company feels that its present wages compare favorably with those of other industries in communities in which the company operates, it is anxious to find some way which will prevent any strike or work stoppage which would do such serious damage to the public.

Accordingly, the company proposes to the union that the matters of basic wage rates, length of wage schedules, reclassification of towns and vacation treatment be submitted to arbitration. This offer is made on the condition that during the pendency of the arbitration proceedings and during collective bargaining, which there will be no strikes, work stoppages or any other action interrupting or interfering with the services or operations of the company.

It is urged that the parties meet promptly to agree upon the contents of a stipulation to arbitrate the above matters.

Very truly yours,
(signed) E. H. Gustafson,
Vice President"

Patterson Calls Aid To Greece 'Anti-War'

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Secretary of War Patterson asserted today that the administration's $400,000,000 measure to bulwark Greece and Turkey against Communism "is not in the direction of war—but away from it."

His opinion was expressed to the House Foreign Affairs committee which is conducting hearings on the proposal to send "limited" military missions, as well as money, to the two Mediterranean countries.

Patterson was asked by Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) what the term "limited" meant in numbers.

"Anywhere from 10 to 40," Patterson replied. "That is our present estimate. It is based on the assumption that the British military mission will continue (in Greece) for the time being at least."

Vorys: "And Turkey?"

Patterson: "Comparable."

Rep. Mundt (R-ED) observed: "It would be very comfortable to the American people if we could spell that out because this legislation is sort of blank checkism."

Mundt added that he "had in mind" offering an amendment limiting the military missions to 100 in each country. He asked:

"Would you have any objection?"

Patterson: "No sir."

Mundt's suggestion is one of a growing crop of proposals in congress to write limitations into the American people if we could spell that out because this legislation is sort of blank checkism."

Sex Life of Oysters Pays Off In Washington

PURDY, Wash.—One of the state's least-known but most profitable branches of government is the state oyster laboratory.

There biologists study the sex life of oysters, drilling and migrating habits of drills (a type of marine snail which eats oysters and other shellfish), and the power of waste sulphite liquor from pulp mills to kill shellfish.

The laboratory is the source of information bulletins sent to 150 Pacific Northwest oyster growers. Last year the state collected more than $250,000 from sales of seedling oysters. Operating costs for the past two years were only $40,000.

Seek Applicants For State Patrol

Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the Ohio Highway patrol, announced today that examinations are now being conducted to select new men for the 23rd Patrol Training school, expected to open in May of this year.

Schools will also be held during the summer and fall to bring the patrol up to its authorized strength of 400 men.

Young men from this vicinity who are interested in the highway patrol as a career can obtain application blanks and complete information about the selection, training and duties of a highway patrolman from the officers at the Patrol's post in Salem.

Enrollment is limited to applicants who successfully pass rigid tests of intelligence, aptitude, and physical condition and whose character is above reproach. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 35, citizens of the United States, residents of Ohio for five years, at least 165 pounds in weight and 5 feet 8 inches in height, and have completed High school or have the equivalent in other schooling or training.

Col. Mingle stated that veterans who have only partially completed High school will be accepted for examinations providing they have had sufficient military service and military schooling to make up this "equivalent." He also stated that veterans of World War II receive preference through civil service regulations which allow them 20 percent additional added to a passing grade in the civil service examination to be held later.

Job Discrimination Unprofitable, Is Claim

COLUMBUS, March 27 — Discrimination in employment is unprofitable to business, Dr. Nathan Christopher of Cleveland, vice president of the Ohio chapter, National Association For the Advancement of Colored People, asserted Tuesday.

He told the Ohio senate commerce and labor committee that discrimination because of race, color or creed narrowed the field of employment and encouraged higher employment costs.

Dr. Christopher was among witnesses testifying at the committee second hearing on a proposal by Sen. Howard Metzgerbaum (D-Cuyahoga) to establish a fair employment practices commission in Ohio.

Other proponents included William LaVelle, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO council; Dr. D. R. Sharp of Cleveland; N. B. Allen of the Columbus Urban league and Abram Ruben, vice president of the National Smelting Co. of Cleveland.

Ohio State Radio Station Lobbies For School Bill, Claim

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, March 27—A senator's assertion that Ohio State university's radio station lobbied for the Daniels-Cramer school bill and misrepresented his own counter-proposal brought offers today of broadcast time over WOSU for a reply.

Sen. Fred G. Reiners (R-Hamilton) made the statement in a senate education committee hearing on a measure he co-sponsored to continue the present school foundation program and appropriate an additional $14,500,000 yearly for cost-of-living bonuses to teachers.

Reiners said he hadn't decided whether to take to the air in reply to a Monday broadcast which he described as "15 minutes of the nearest bit of propaganda I've ever heard over the radio" in favor of the Daniels-Cramer bill.

Would Boost Subsidy
That measure would increase the school subsidy from $69,000,000 to $85,000,000 a year. It was recommended for passage by the committee before the bill was introduced in the senate.

Reiners asserted statements by WOSU broadcaster A. W. Elliott about the Hamilton county delegation's counter-proposal were "inaccurate to say the least."

Reiners said Elliott telephoned him yesterday afternoon even before the hearing was over to say that if his remarks were incorrect "I'll give you time to state your side."

Shortly after Reiners' testimony, Dr. A. B. Sias of Ohio university's college of education at Athens told the committee he "has been talking to prospects right along about the Daniels-Cramer bill with the idea it's going to pass."

"If it doesn't, we may not get them," he added in emphasizing the current need for teacher training students.

He reported the average annual salary of Athens county teachers was $1,600 and estimated they would get "in excess of $500 each" additional under the Daniels-Cramer bill.

Walton B. Bliss, Ohio Education association lobbyist who has campaigned for the Daniels-Cramer bill, termed the substitute proposal a "snare and a delusion" to Ohio teachers.

Major objections to the measure were that it would provide only temporary relief, that it did not include pay boosts for other school employees, that it would not raise educational standards, and that it would not help pay increased costs of needed school supplies.

Ohio Theater Industry Opposes Municipal Taxes

COLUMBUS, March 27—Ohio's theater industry today expressed opposition to municipalities taxing them without limit.

The opposition was raised before the house taxation committee today, which is considering an administration bill that would repeal the present state three percent admissions tax and thereby open the way for municipalities to levy such a tax to bolster their own income.

P. J. Wood of Columbus, secretary of the Independent Theater Owners of Ohio, predicted the theater tax would be increased to 10 percent if levied by local authorities. He advocated continuance of the three percent tax collected by the state but suggested that all of it be allocated to the local subdivisions.

Advocating enactment of the bill were Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus and state tax commissioner C. Emory Glander. Mayor Rhodes said the present three percent levy would raise $155,000 for the city of Columbus.

Marketing Functions Declared 'Willy-Nilly'

WASHINGTON, March 27—Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) yesterday described the "marketing functions" of the Agriculture department as "willy-nilly and without rhyme or reason" during a house speech.

Jenkins said he wanted to point out that the department "has not yet taken one single constructive step" toward establishing a marketing research agency authorized by the 79th congress.

Chairman of the Republican food study committee, Jenkins urged congress to refuse to appropriate money for agricultural marketing research until the department established a separate independent marketing research office.

Public Address System Teaches Students English

BOSTON—Some 30 children of foreign-born parents are learning English at a public school in Boston's Chinatown by aid of a public address system.

A six-year-old Chinese girl steps up to a microphone on a raised platform and begins reading the story of the "Three Bears." If she mispronounces a word, other children raise their hands and the reading is halted until a correction is made.

Teacher Mary I. Elliott says the new method "is working miracles and the children are learning the language almost overnight."

Moose Five Overwhelms AMVETS 58-36 To Nail Round

Cavs Upset Printz Club In B Loop; Chicks Beat Middies

The important basketball games were held Wednesday night in the Memorial building, the feature attraction of which was the third round Class A title match between the AMVETS and the Moose, which was won by the Moose by the amazing score of 58-36.

In two other contests the Cavaliers annexed the championship in the High school Class B loop by drubbing the Printz club 31-20, while the Chicks capped the second round honors in Class C by thumping the Middies 13-6.

The Moose five left no doubt in the minds of spectators as to the better team last night. They were in control of the game so completely after the half that it soon became only a question of how high the score would go. The youthful squad was passing and shooting in top form and did not make any mistakes.

Only one point margin separated the clubs at the half, with the Moose on top 20-19 after the AMVETS had forged into the lead early in the second period. However, the third quarter saw the winners pour in 21 points to the AMVETS' six. That decided the game.

Dick Miner was the big man for the Moose with 17 points, although his performance was slightly overshadowed by that of Sam Pridon of the AMVETS. Big Sam notched 20 points, as he consistently hit for hook shots over his head.

The Cavaliers showed balanced team scoring in upsetting the Printz

Truman Gets Bowling Alley As Present

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A bowling alley is being set up in the White House basement as a birthday present for President Truman who will be 63 May 8.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters today that the two-alley affair is a gift from "a group of anonymous donors."

The alleys, Ross said, will be regulation in every way and will have automatic pin setters.

Second Guessing

By DON E. BEATTIE
News Sports Editor

OUT OF THE MAILS

There has been some consternation among local and district fans regarding those "Congratulations Clippers—State Class B Champions" signs which are literally plastered all over northeastern Columbiana county these days.

A lot of folks wondered where they came from and how they happened to appear just seconds after the score of the game last Saturday was announced in these parts.

The true tale is this: Chuck Fisher, former president of the Columbiana Boosters club and a printer in the nearby village, didn't attend the Friday game between Clippertown and Cornhill, but stayed home and up all night turning out the signs in advance.

Chuck left early Saturday to see the final game in Columbus and carefully placed the freshly printed signs beside the incinerator, with specific instructions to some "stay-at-homes" to either distribute them at once or burn them immediately after the game Saturday, depending on the outcome.

You know what happened—and that's the story behind C-day preparedness in Columbiana!

DETERMINATION DEPARTMENT

With current championship fever subsiding in Columbiana county after an unprecedented year in county basketball, Coach Bob Miller's Quakers are back from Columbus with a feeling that they'd like to return in more than a "visitor's" capacity next season.

Bob Payer, Tommy Miner, Carl Ciccozzi, Virgil Kelly, Wilford "Biggie" Faulkner and Mo Mercer of the varsity (all back next year) all ventured Columbus way and watched two neighboring schools—East Liverpool and Columbiana—take active part in the finals.

The appearance of the thing was good and all came back with a taste for the Columbus atmosphere especially in tourney time.

It was a good investment the Boosters made. Perhaps it will pay off!

DEPARTMENT OF CONJECTURE

Announcement yesterday of the players to participate in the second annual Ohio All-Star football game in Canton Aug. 15 was conspicuous by the absence of any Columbiana county players being among those selected for the "dream game."

Although the game will be played only 35 miles from here, it will hardly hold much interest for fans from this county.

The somewhat hard-to-understand angle of the selections is that no one, despite the excellent football records compiled here this season—He won the batting crown two years in a row—Miller will play with a Dover Eastern Ohio league baseball team this year.

Such senior stars as Lisbon's Allen Webber, Salem's Charlie Franks, Tony Martindale and Andy Farlontieri, East Liverpool's Don Jackson, Columbiana's Dick Berryman and Jim Mollenkopf, Leetonia's

BOB KUZAVA SEEMS IN FOR STARTING BERTH WITH TRIBE

Has Paced All Hurlers In Exhibition Games; Gets Two-Hitter Tuesday

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—Rookie Bob Kuzava, a southpaw with control, apparently has clinched a starting berth with the Cleveland Indians.

The 24-year-old native of Wyandotte, Mich., has paced all the Cleveland hurlers in effectiveness during the exhibition season Tuesday he became the first to pitch eight innings as he limited Hollywood's Pacific coast leaguers to a pair of singles as the Tribe won 5 to 0.

Bob retired 10 in a row before Tony Lupien, formerly of the Boston Red Sox, made the first hit in the fourth. A double play erased Tony and the next man to reach base was Frank Kelleher in the eighth. He didn't advance either.

Kuzava did not issue a walk and fanned four. Red Embree took over in the ninth and allowed two more hits.

The Indians pounded Ronnie Smith for 11 of their 12 hits during his five innings, including a two-run homer by Pat Seery.

Joe Krakauskas, veteran southpaw sold by Cleveland to Hollywood during the winter, relieved Smith and faced only 14 of his former mates, giving an infield single and fanning four.

The Indians are slated for two games today. The regulars oppose the Chicago Cubs here at Wrigley field, while a "B" squad faces the University of Southern California.

Town of Baseball

BALTIMORE, O., March 27.—Residents of Fairfield county living in Baltimore and neighboring Basil show a straw-vote preference of 32 for renaming their consolidated community "baseball."

A straw ballot conducted here showed 345 citizens for the sporty name and 202 against. There also were 121 votes for the name Blendon and 17 for Fairmore.

Before any new name can be adopted, it must be presented and approved by common pleas court.

Jack White and Jim Driscoll and East Palestine's Joe Nolan seem too good to overlook.

All of them, of course, couldn't have made the team, but certainly this county deserved some representation. County football can be stacked against the best.

ODDS AND ENDS

Fred Cope, Salem track coach, is bemoaning the fact that only 26 track candidates are working out in the gym. Last year at this time more than 70 were hitting the boards.

Bob Miller, Salem cage coach, may play with the Salem Diner softball team this season. He won the batting crown two years in a row. Miller will play with a Dover Eastern Ohio league baseball team this year.

Herb Brown, former Salem coach now in Dayton, is working with the Junior Chamber there and is coaching a crack Dayton pro cage team. The outfit laced the Youngstown Bears in an exhibition this year.

Call Baseball Meeting

American Legion Team For Youths 17 or Under Will Hold Additional Meeting Saturday At Legion Home; All Interested Invited

Enthusiasm is growing by leaps and bounds for the newly-formed American Legion baseball team for Salem area youths 17 years old or under.

A meeting last week, complete with baseball films and a general discussion of the plans for the coming season of league play with other Legion teams in this county, was attended by about 43 youngsters itching to don the cleats and gloves and get into action.

Barring a continuation of the present weather, Manager A. B. Combs and his aides, Bob Chappell and Paul Stratton, had hopes to hold a workout Saturday.

Regardless of the weather, however, a meeting will be held in the American Legion post, E. State st., at 3 p. m. Saturday. All boys 17 or under are asked to report if they have an interest in baseball.

Tribe Hitting Ball Wednesday

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Pat Seery is on a hitting rampage these days and things are looking a little brighter for the Cleveland Indians.

The portly fly chaser, who usually strikes out or belts the ball over the outlying fences, clouted his fourth round tripper in as many days yesterday as the Tribe registered its first victory over the Chicago Cubs, 13 to 4. His homer today boosted his runs-batted-in figure to 14 for the spring exhibition season.

Outfielder Hal Peck also hit for the circuit as the Indians collected a total of 16 hits.

In each of the second and seventh innings 10 Indians came to bat as the attack opened against Rookie Cliff Chambers and was continued against Russ Meers, Paul Erickson and Hank Wyse.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE

PORT MYERS, Fla.—Among the hundreds of Thomas A. Edison's inventions the phonograph remained his favorite.

"He loved music," said his widow. Now in her eighties, Mrs. Edison still winters here as she has done annually since her famous husband brought her as a bride more than 60 years ago.

"It was all very crude then," she recalled, "and the houses were all on stilts to keep us out of the water. There were only 200 people in Port Myers then—but plenty to tell Mr. Edison that this was a great place to live."

The inventor selected a site a mile and a quarter out of town and, because there were no carpenters available, he ordered a house built in Maine and shipped here in sections.

"The schooner was sunk," said Mrs. Edison, "but that didn't discourage him. He never gave up on anything he started. He just ordered another house."

Still as sturdy as the day it was erected, the pleasant frame structure and its fine botanical gardens hold many warm memories for Mrs. Edison. A plump friendly woman, she enjoys recalling them.

"I couldn't understand how anybody could live here at first," she smiled. "We had to bring our flour and meat with us, and when the door opened the wind would be so high the bread would fly off the plate."

"But it was exciting and we enjoyed every minute of it." Shaded now by 60 varieties of palm trees, the frontier settlement of Port Myers has grown into one of the most beautiful Florida cities.

Edison and Henry Ford helped plan its development.

Some women find it trying to be married to men of fame and genius. Not Mrs. Edison.

"He worked endlessly," she said, "but he was happy and a great tease. He wasn't the type who had to go off into a room of his own and be alone."

"We were always in one room. You didn't have to hush up because he was thinking out some problem. He wasn't a grouchy—like some geniuses. So my life was all right."

"I gave up what I could have done in the way of club work and other activities. His work was more important than anything I could have done."

"My time was his. I never got tied down with anything that would interfere with his plans."

Some of the inventor's best work was done in his old winter laboratory here. In the evening after dinner he "would jot down 50 new ideas" to try the next day.

"He never was bored and never had a regret," said Mrs. Edison. "And he never was despondent. He'd just pick up and do something else. He was always taking money from one business to help another. He was always poor. But money as such didn't mean anything to him."

him. He would be as happy in a hut as a house."

His curiosity was inexhaustible. "When we went driving, Mr. Edison used to stop the car to peer at roadside plants like a schoolboy," she said.

Discussing her husband, Mrs. Edison often lapses into the present tense. For her he is still alive. The old Maine house and its gardens, where they lived so many happy seasons, has been given to Port Myers as an Edison memorial.

The city once turned down an offer by Edison to build it a power plant and furnish free lighting. City councilmen thought the electric light would turn out to be nothing but a fad.

Wind In Those Days
BUTLER, Pa.—The yellowed pages of the Butler Eagle, carrying an account of the Terrible Snow of '88, illustrated the intensity of the blizzard by reprinting this comment from a Camden, N. J., paper: "The wind has blown nearly all the water out of the Delaware River."
